

A diagram of a multi-layered circular structure, possibly a cross-section of a lens or a similar optical component. It consists of four concentric circles. The innermost circle is labeled '1'. The region between the first and second circles is labeled '2'. The region between the second and third circles is labeled '3'. The outermost region, between the third and fourth circles, is labeled '4'. Arrows point from each label to its corresponding region.

FIG.2

